

Bright Ideas: Car Trips & Puppets

Are you going on a long trip? Puppets are some of the best toys for car travel.

Have a couple of them so they can “talk” to each other. No puppets? Try socks! Socks make great characters. Just put a sock on your hand with the toe pushed in to make a mouth.

Think up some “story starters” and let your child finish the story. Take turns telling quick stories, or have each of your puppets describe what they see out the window. New vocabulary words will be at your doorstep as you experience the changing view outside.
